The notion of "free markets" is false. The privately owned Federal Reserve would like you to believe that markets are free but it's a lie. A cabal of super rich elitists control big media. They used it to promote concepts which concentrate wealth & power in their hands. An international cabal of elites have succeeded, in their respective societies, in the monetization of the earth's natural resources. They have used collusion to circumnavigate the laws of every nation by way of the notion of competition. Their main tool being world trade agreements which are negotiated in secrecy and designed to increase worker insecurity. It follows that the threat of outsourcing jobs to other nations will force the current work force not to demand a livable wage or safe working conditions. The truth, what big media won't tell their societies, is that all national economic systems have been captured by the international cabal.

For example, let's look at the current conflict over the vast natural resources of the south china sea. It is foolish for the Chinese public to think that they will increase their standard of living from the "Land Grab". Only the owners of Chinese society will benefit. But, the public will get stuck in a vicious cycle of conflict with other south sea nations. The public doesn't get that the Chinese elitist believe in their heart of hearts, that their private financial interests "are" the public interests. They use their big media to label all logic and reason as anti-Chinese. Why? Because totalitarian seeks to marginalize the labor force by way of "patriotic bullshit" which will concentrate wealth & power in the hands of the ruling elites. The rich will gain more power and wealth. But the public will get zip. If this land grab happens the public will experience a cycle of increasingly precarious standards of living. The whole Land Grab scheme is a switch and bait tactic which has been employed many times throughout human history.

Economics has always used politics as a tool for motivating the public into conflict. Hitler used this same big lie hype to induce patriotic fervor for WW II. The fact is free markets, based on greed and competition, only create schisms and anxieties between nations. It will eventually lead to war and terrorism. However; in the face of global warming, the survival of human civilization & its biosphere completely depend on whether the societies of earth receive true and important facts, rather than lies and propaganda or trivia. Deliberately outrageous stories do increase profits but they are bad for their cultures.

All nations are currently seeking to crush dissent by way of throttling the flow of information over the internet. The "owners of humanity" believe that abolishing civil liberties equals higher profits. And so, the media is more focused on their stock markets than on the psychological impact of displaced children. Many of these traumatized children will go on to become the next generation of terrorists. And yet, we allow the owners to play their "stock markets" games in the gambling casinos of the world. For the merchants of war displaced refugees are big profits. No refugees, no profits! Various multi-nationals would see a drastic cut in profits if a solution were had. Weapon manufacture is not the only industry who profits from the flow of refugees. The construction, telecommunications and medial industries; along with countless other sub-industries, also profit. But Big media is not addressing the real threat-global warming. The real danger is not other human beings. It is the Laissez faire economic activity which currently is in control of our lives. The truth for all governments is the choice between competition or co-operation. It is a choice between evolution or extinction.

With world media so entrenched in the Geo-economic/political system is it any wonder that the following is on the rise: Droughts, Wild Fires, Toxic Waste Dumps, Power-outages, Flooding, Tornadoes, Hurricanes, Oil Spills, Fracking Related Earth Quakes, Nuclear Accidents, Drug Resistant and Virulent Diseases, Respiratory Problems, Food Chains Saturated With Pesticides & Herbicides, Mass Migration of Refugees from War Zones or social instability. All of these are the direct result of investor dividends. And it is doubtful that the poor, sick and hungry will see any return on taxes gone to create these labor saving technologies. It is more likely that only those who look for profits at the expense Global Warming will see their wealth and power increase. The rest can only hope that "trickle down economics" is not a pipe dream. In truth human civilization has monetized every aspect of existence and now must be deconstructed and redesigned, or we perish. This is what global warming is telling us.

In conclusion, it is a sad thing to realize that I live in a nation where a physician's goal in life is to make as much money as possible by way of investments, rather than saving lives as a non-profit business. Surely, global warming demands that we leave fossil fuels in the ground and share the cost world wide of financing health, housing and education for all. I think we can do this by creating free energy devices and renouncing arm conflict as a political tool. The United Nations must establish a "Universal Basic Income" for every person on earth. In America we could put our lawyers and doctors on a fixed federal salary and take away the the need to make as much money as possible. We could nationalize many privately owned interests that are critical to solving global warming and human basic needs. We could at the same time keep and promote those privately owned interests "who have served the public well". We owe it to future generations to at least start looking at some options.
